Science Fair Attracts 700

More than 700 persons viewed about 240 science exhibits last night at the Circleville school Science Fair.

Youngsters in all grades entered the fair and 31 came out with "superior" ratings.

Parents, friends and students jammed the social room and adjoining basement rooms at the high school. They were fascinated by the depth of knowledge and ingenious application displayed by the students who entered the fair.

The space allotted to the fair was inadequate. School officials were astounded by the number of entries and the interest shown by parents and friends. They promise a bigger, better show next year.

A panel of 66 judges graded the exhibits. They interviewed each of the youngsters on his project and gave ratings on presentation, depth of knowledge and on the amount of knowledge gained by making the exhibit.

SUPERIOR ratings in high school and seventh and eighth grades will be eligible to enter the district Science Fair April 15 at the Ohio State Fairgrounds. The State Science Fair will be at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, in May.

There were 18 superior ratings awarded to high school students, 7 to seventh and eighth graders and 6 to elementary students.

Here are the students who received superior grades on their exhibits:

High School — Dave Pritchard, radio, transmitter; John Grigg, jet propulsion; Beth Rickey, plant tropisms; Ray Boyer, hydrocarbons; Roger Kline, water purification system;

Steve Yost, remarkable rodent; Ethel Fuller, earthworm; Carolyn Clifton, leavening agents; Richard Lee Warner, sound from light waves; Kathy Schmidt, conchology;

Mike Wilson, air light; Sandy Smith, my rigid bridge; Edward Wright, brains of vertebrates; Jim Spalding, blood vessel; Carol Sue Guseman, insects and reproduction;

John Davis, flora and fauna; Peter DeNeef, continuous cloud chamber; Mona Davis, muscles of the body.

Seventh and eighth grade—Judy Ann Gatrell, digestive system; Michael Gilmore, circulatory system; Brenda Cook, functions of the body; Pam Sweeney, visible man; Fred Rickey, evolution of heart; Charles Martin, the heart; Glenn Easterday, boats.

U.S. Offers Cut In Armed Force

2 Million Men To Go If Russia Duplicates

PARIS (AP)—The United States has agreed to slash its armed forces to 2,100,000 men if the Soviet Union does the same, informed sources said today.

The Western Allies were to meet again today to put the final touches to a package plan they will present to the Soviet Union when the 10-nation disarmament talks open in Geneva Tuesday.

Informed sources said the manpower ceiling would be a high-light of a three-part scheme proposed to the Communist bloc for reducing military forces and ending the nuclear weapons race.

The United States, Britain, France, Canada and Italy have been working out differences to present a united front at Geneva.

The Western plan calls for three main stages:

1. Establishment of an international disarmament agency to centralize all records of armaments and troops maintained by all nations.

2. Agreement by all nations involved to stop producing nuclear weapons and to convert materials on hand to "atoms for peace" programs; reduce the armed forces of the Soviet Union and the United States.

3. End of production of nuclear weapons and ballistic missiles with a military use; and eventual reduction of armies of all nations to the lowest level needed for security.

The West will come up against a rival disarmament plan authored by Nikita Khrushchev. The Soviet Premier wants total disarmament, with the first stage limiting United States, the Soviet Union and Red Chinese forces to 1,700,000 each and Britain and France to 650,000 each.

The Soviet Union now has 3,623,000 men in uniform, but Khrushchev has said 1,200,000 will be demobilized within the next year or two. The U.S. Defense Department last December reported American armed forces at 2,500,817 men.

Foster Mother Faces Murder Rap

WILLIAMSTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—A murder warrant has been issued for Mrs. Gertrude Reed, who police say drowned her 10-year-old adopted daughter Friday in a bathtub at their home here.

Wood County Prosecutor Richard F. Pence said the woman was in custody at Parkersburg.

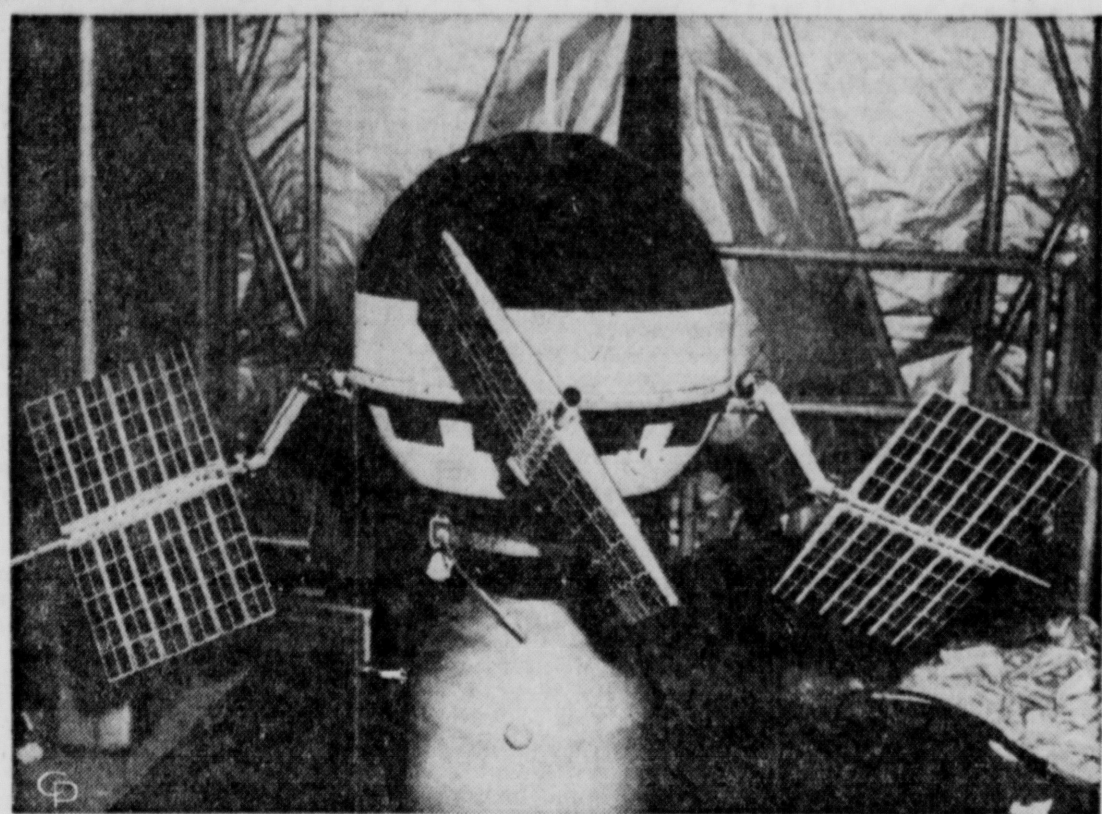

The victim, Vickie Dianne Reed was mentally retarded. Shirley Morton, principal of the Williamstown Elementary School said: "Vickie was a slow student but she was never a behavior problem. I was well pleased with Vickie's progress." The principal said Mrs. Reed told her she had a nervous breakdown because of the child's behavior.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Dolley E. Haines, 54, teller since 1952 at Dollar Savings & Loan Assn. in Hamilton, elected to waive preliminary hearing Friday on a charge of embezzling over $6,000. U.S. Commissioner Graham Hunt released her on $2,000 bond.

Southern Ohio Gets Another Snow Blanket

Carolina, Georgia Rescue Teams Battle Freeze after Blizzard

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A fresh blanket of snow fell over Southern Ohio Friday night. Temperatures were quite cold again this morning. Early morning readings ranged from 3 above at Youngstown to 23 at Chesapeake. Cincinnati had 13, Columbus 15 and Cleveland 11.

On this morning's weather map, a weak low pressure was centered over West Virginia. An area of high pressure covered the central plains. The low will move eastward and its associated cloudiness over the central and southern sections of Ohio will give way to clear weather tonight.

Mostly sunny conditions will prevail Sunday as the high pressure dominates the Ohio weather. Northerly winds will continue the cold temperatures over this weekend.

Meanwhile, a hard freeze in the wake of a heavy snowfall plagued rescue teams in their efforts to reach isolated families in North Carolina and Georgia.

Thousands more, dazed by nature's freakish series of severe weather blows to the Southland, dug their way out of drifts that piled to a height of several feet in mountainous areas of Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, the Carolinas and Virginia.

The giant late-winter storm headed out to sea Friday after dumping unprecedented amounts of March snow on the stricken states. It was the third big storm of the month.

The snow depth increased by eight inches in the northwestern tip of North Carolina and slowed relief teams seeking to rescue some 600 snowbound families. Some counties in the area have had more than 50 inches of snow since Feb. 11.

Helicopters, half-tracks, weasels and other military vehicles are being used in the struggle to get relief to these areas.

Some North Carolina folk were using lumber from the sides of their houses for fuel. A crew found one woman using bed slats and planks from her front porch to keep warm.

"Some folks seem to think the situation has been exaggerated," said Adl. Gen. Casus Wayne of North Carolina, who ordered the National Guard into action Thursday. "But the truth is, we just don't know," he added.

In Georgia's northern mountains, center of the state's vast poultry business, the storm dumped 10 inches in some areas and drifted to several feet.

"Reports from throughout north Georgia indicate scores of communities and thousands of farms are in serious trouble. I have no idea when the National Guard can even make tentative plans to go home," said Lt. Col. Emmett Plunkett, task force commander.

Last week's dual ice and snow storms caused an estimated 40 million dollars in damage and in business loss to Georgia. The latest storm added to the estimate but posed no serious threat to the rich peach crop further south.

Wildlife people reported frozen deer and dead quail littering some parts of the ice-covered states.

National Guard units in snow-bound Scott County, Virginia, provided tons of food and coal for residents in short supply.

In Bowling Green, Ky., one of the hardest hit cities, National Guard trucks were used as ambulances to bring expectant mothers from rural homes to hospitals.

Pioneer V Radios Wealth of Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pioneer V hurtled on through the silent reaches of space today, heading for its destined place as a tiny new sister planet between Earth and Venus.

By 8 a.m. EST, 24 hours after launching, it was estimated to be about 187,150 miles from earth. By 3 p.m. this afternoon, it would cross the moon's orbit around the earth, about 232,000 miles out. Then it will plunge onward in its five-month trip to an orbit around the sun.

The 26-inch sphere is packed with cunningly miniaturized scientific instruments, already sending to earth a wealth of important new information on what it's like out there. Someday men may follow it.

Every hour or so, on command from stations on earth, one of the satellite's two radios switches on, sends back the loud clear signal for 15 minutes, and then is switched off by a man standing back here on terra firma. This is done to conserve the sun-powered batteries.

Pioneer V is the third man-made thing to be hurled into a planet-like orbit around the sun. The brilliant success of its Thor-Able launching rocket and the evidence that everything aboard is in perfect working order gave America's beleaguered space scientists a tremendous boost in self-esteem after watching the Soviet Union's startling feats of spacecraft.

Pioneer V is the first satellite to be fired toward an orbit inside the earth's. After it falls into its endless race around the sun—its orbit will touch the earth's and swing to within about seven million miles of Venus' smaller orbit. It's "year" around the sun will be about 311 days.

The new space probe's second radio is a powerful 150-watt ultra high frequency job designed to send back to earth from as far as 50 million miles away.

Even in later years, when Pioneer V swings back that close to earth, scientists hope to be able to trigger this big radio again and establish contact. This could happen in 1963.

The 150-watt won't be turned on until the probe is about five million miles out, about a month from now.

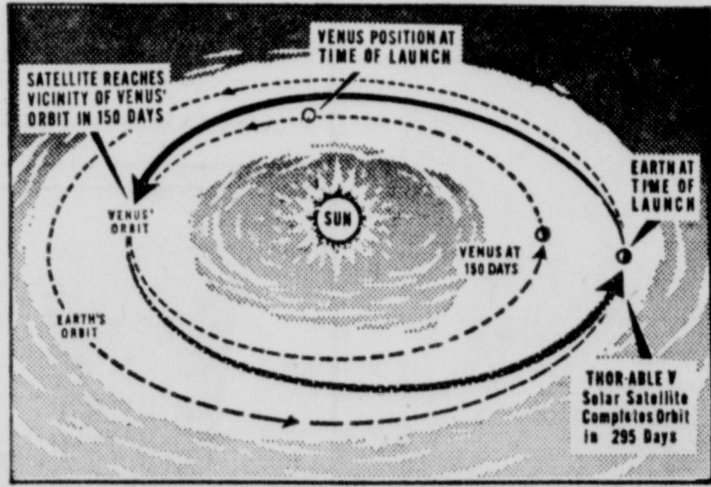

This will be by far the longest distance in space covered by man-made radio transmission, either Soviet or American. The previous record was set by the 13-pound Pioneer IV, which even now is circling the sun. Its radio faded out at 407,000 miles away.

The Soviets still hold the weight championship. Their Mecha probe tipped in at 1½ tons. Pioneer V weighs just about 95 pounds. This reflects the Soviet advantage in rocket thrust.

The Thor-Able launching at Cape Canaveral, Fla., developed 165,000 pounds of thrust. The three-stage rocket, the intricate liquid-fueled kind, did its work with almost absolute precision.

Pioneer V's main job is to give scientists a better picture of what conditions can be expected when men venture out into the solar system.

It is measuring radiation, mysterious gases or "plasma" emitted by the sun, magnetic fields, temperature and the impact of tiny meteors.

LONG WAY TO GO — Launched in a near-perfect space shot at Cape Canaveral, Fla., a 90-pound American Thor-Able satellite will travel at 25,000 miles an hour for several months before going into orbit around the sun. It is expected to remain in orbit for about 100,000 years.

Breakthrough to Miners Expected Today by Rescuers

LOGAN, W.Va. (AP)—A breakthrough to 18 trapped miners was expected today after ventilating pipes suck out deadly fumes.

Smoke and gases, along with intense heat from the smoldering coal and slate fire, have thwarted rescuers four days. Mine officials believe the men had time to barricade themselves off one-third of a mile from the fire.

President Raymond E. Salvati of Island Creek Coal Co. said four galvanized steel pipes, 24 inches in diameter, are the latest weapon in the rescue attempt.

Two of these pipes will draw fumes out by means of large fans. The other two will pump fresh air into the area where the entombed men are believed to be.

With the air cleared, rescuers could reach the trapped miners without exposing them to fumes. Workmen Friday night and ear-

Gambler, Sweetie Die in Gunfire

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A shotgun blasted death from ambush Friday night to a Youngstown gambler rackets figure and to a young woman on whom he was calling.

S. Joseph (Sandy) Naples, 50, fired six revolver shots before he died from wounds in the chest and head.

Miss Mary Ann Vranich 28, who was on her porch to greet Naples when he arrived about 11:35 p. m., was hit in the left chest. She died moments after arriving at South Side Hospital.

Capt. William R. Golden of Youngstown police said a shotgun was found near the curb in front of the house. He added he thought it likely one of Naples' shots might have struck the killer.

Golden put out an immediate order to pick up all known hoodlums and numbers racketeers on sight.

Naples was regarded by Youngstown police as the No. 2 man in Mahoning County gambling rackets. He served a six-month sentence for gambling in 1958, and in 1957 a $60,000 home he was building was dynamited. He was wounded in a 1949 shooting here.

Miss Vranich, who lived with her widowed mother, had been Naples' girl friend for a long time, police said. He went to her home Friday night carrying a bag of sandwiches from the Center Sandwich Shop which he operated.

When the shooting began, Stanley Novak, who lives three houses from the Vranich home, ran out on his porch.

"I saw this guy shooting," Novak said. "I didn't know what was going on. At first I thought it was the police."

"This man shot from the sidewalk toward the front door as they started to walk in."

"The girl hollered: 'Please help me and call police.'"

"I hollered back: 'I already did.'"

"I didn't get a good look at the man. And I didn't hear any car start up. He just seemed to come from between the two houses and start shooting. Then he ducked behind the house again."

Naples apparently was struck by two shotgun blasts from behind

before he whirled around and began firing back. He crouched behind a porch railing and emptied his pistol while mortally wounded. Miss Vranich was lying beside his body on the porch when police arrived.

Capt. Golden said seven. 45-caliber revolver shells also were found and that it appeared an accomplice of the man with the shotgun had also been firing. None of the revolver slugs struck either Naples or the woman. The captain thought a third man was assigned to the gangland-style execution as driver of a getaway car.

Ashville Moves Into Regional

By JAMES I. SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

Spurring for 38 points in the second half, the Ashville Broncos advanced to the Ohio Class "A" Regional Tournament last night with a cliff-hanging 60-54 victory over a far underrated Radnor.

The Broncos came from a 32-22 halftime deficit to blast their opponents off the Ohio State Fairgrounds' Coliseum floor, proving again they are a great second half ball club.

The Radnor Chiefs, considered a possession-type team, ran with the Broncos for the first two quarters and swept them off their feet behind the sensational shooting of Bobby James, a 6' 1" guard.

James outscored the entire Ashville varsity the first half with a 23-point performance. Radnor held the Broncos to a meager 22 marks.

IT TOOK THE PLAY of revived starters on the Ashville squad to pull this one out.

Just one out. Gary Gaines, ousted from a starting berth last night, came off the bench in the second half to halt James with six points, all in the final period.

The other spectacular marksman was Dickie Hollenback, who sent Ashville into lead it never lost with three straight buckets from 20-feet out and garnered eight points in the all-important and game-deciding last period.

James captured scoring honors with 29 points, hitting 10 of 19 in the first half and finishing the contest with 12 of 26 from the field for 46.2 per cent and 5 of 6 from the charity stripe.

But it was Ashville's well-balanced scoring attack and poise when the chips were down that counted. A future great at forward, sophomore Tom Rathburn, led Ashville with 17 points, on 8 of 12 shots from the floor for 66.6 per cent and one foul shot free throw for 17 points.

Hollenback followed with 6 of 14 from the field for 12 points. All-Ohio candidate, Bobby Hoover, notched a 4 of 9 and two free throws for 10 points.

Revitalized Gaines hit for eight points to tie driving guard, Jimmy Gregg. Dale Fout added five to complete the Bronco scoring.

BENCH-WARMER Dave White trailed James in the Radnor scoring with nine points and a fine game in the high post position. Doug Firstenberger, a 6' 5" center, followed with five points and (Continued on Page Seven)

New Snow Makes Weatherman Ask — We Ready for Spring?

Anyone wanting a white Christmas should celebrate the holiday in March!

Even the Weatherman has lost count of the snows experienced in Pickaway County since the middle of February. Last night was no different as an unexpected 1½ to 1½ inches of the white stuff fell.

This is the second straight year that late February and March have been the real winter months for the area. This year there was a single snow from November 21 until mid-January, leaving Christmas as barren as the desert.

But unexpected or not, the State Highway and County Engineering Departments were "on the ball" and had crews out clearing the roads within ½ hour after the snow started falling at midnight.

BOTH departments expect the roads to be completely clear by 3 p. m., thanks to "Old Man Sun" and his bright rays. Many highways have been plowed back and all have been salted to hurry the melting operation.

Spring can't be too far away because the temperatures rise more quickly now, lessening the burden on the highway agencies.

The State Highway unit had six crews working all night and today while the county sent eight snow plows, eight salt spinners and one grader into the early morning dawn to battle the elements.

Most primary roads are clear and wet, but secondary state and county highways still are slippery in spots and caution should be used in driving.

It was a thin snow which blew and drifted a lot. The Stoutsville and Kingston Pikes were practically drifted shut, while other roads were bare of snow.

Melted snow measured 0.05 of an inch at the county weather bureau

Deputy's Trial Set

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Helen Ray, onetime deputy in Clinton County Probate Court, must stand trial April 20 for converting $2,100 in court funds. She pleaded innocent in common pleas court Friday.

at 8 a. m. today. The thermometer dropped to 13 degrees early today and is expected to rise to 30-32 degrees this afternoon.

TONIGHT'S low has been set at 10 to 14 degrees and tomorrow's high is predicted to reach 35. Don't look for too much snow to descend into the ground until temperatures start to reach the high 30's or low 40's.

Not to be discouraging, but the last snow of 1959 came on April 12, so maybe we'll still have a snow covered holiday — Easter.

Finch Trial Jury Still Deliberates

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The hours—and the rumors—keep piling up but the Finch murder trial jury maintains an air of unruffled amiability—despite the serious questions it must resolve.

The jury begins its eighth day of deliberations today—trying to determine the fate of Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42-year-old surgeon, and his 23-year-old sweetheart, Carole Degoff.

The co-defendants are accused of killing the doctor's wife, Barbara Jean Finch, 36, last July 18. They are charged with murder and conspiracy. If convicted, they could be condemned to the gas chamber or life imprisonment.

The seven-man, five-women jury has spent 35 hours in actual deliberation and 9 hours re-hearing transcripts of the trial testimony.

Ex-Columbus Policeman Enters Plea of Guilty

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Former Columbus policeman Raymond E. McKnight, 34, involved in last fall's police theft scandal, has pleaded guilty in Common Pleas Court to a petit larceny charge.

McKnight, off duty for 19 months because of a motorcycle accident injury, was accused of the theft of a garbage disposal and sink valued at $54. Sentencing was deferred Friday pending a report from McKnight's physician.

LONG WAY TO GO — Launched in a near-perfect space shot at Cape Canaveral, Fla., a 90-pound American Thor-Able satellite will travel at 25,000 miles an hour for several months before going into orbit around the sun. It is expected to remain in orbit for about 100,000 years.

Breakthrough to Miners Expected Today by Rescuers

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP)—A breakthrough to 15 trapped miners was expected today after ventilating pipes suck out deadly fumes.

Smoke and gases, along with intense heat from the smoldering coal and slate fire, have thwarted rescuers four days. Mine officials believe the men had time to barricade themselves off one-third of a mile from the fire.

President Raymond E. Salvati of Island Creek Coal Co. said four galvanized steel pipes, 24 inches in diameter, are the latest weapon in the rescue attempt.

Two of these pipes will draw fumes out by means of large fans. The other two will pump fresh air into the area where the entombed men are believed to be.

With the air cleared, rescuers could reach the trapped miners without exposing them to fumes. Workmen Friday night and early today hauled the 12-foot sections of pipes into the tunnel. Tons of cinder blocks were brought in to prop up the tubes.

The ventilation system is bypassing the 200-foot long fire area, which is now pretty well contained.

Teams of weary, begrimed men—about 40 at a time and 150 in all—have been struggling around the clock against what the veteran coal diggers call "hell's fire."

The accident happened soon after the day shift reported for work Tuesday at the Holden 22 mine seven miles southwest of here. Apparently a slate fall ripped an electric line, igniting timbers, coal and slate.

More slate falls roared down until a 200-foot long mass of smoldering fire was heaped up in the main tunnel.

Gambler, Sweetie Die in Gunfire

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A shotgun blasted death from ambush Friday night to a Youngstown gambler and his young woman on whom he was calling.

S. Joseph (Sandy) Naples, 50, fired six revolver shots before he died from wounds in the chest and head.

Miss Mary Ann Vrancich 28, who was on her porch to greet Naples when he arrived about 11:35 p. m., was hit in the left chest. She died moments after arriving at South Side Hospital.

Capt. William R. Golden of Youngstown police said a shotgun was found near the curb in front of the house. He added he thought it likely one of Naples' shots might have struck the killer.

Golden put out an immediate order to pick up all known hoodlums and numbers racketeers on sight.

Naples was regarded by Youngstown police as the No. 2 man in Mahoning County gambling rackets. He served a six-month sentence for gambling in 1958, and in 1957 a $60,000 home he was building was dynamited. He was wounded in a 1949 shooting here.

Miss Vrancich, who lived with her widowed mother, had been Naples' girl friend for a long time, police said. He went to her home Friday night carrying a bag of sandwiches from the Center Sandwich Shop which he operated.

When the shooting began, Stanley Novak, who lives three houses from the Vrancich home, ran out on his porch.

"I saw this guy shooting," Novak said. "I didn't know what was going on. At first I thought it was the police."

"This man shot from the sidewalk toward the front door as they started to walk in."

"The girl hollered: 'Please help me and call police.'"

"I hollered back: 'I already did.'"

"I didn't get a good look at the man. And I didn't hear any car start up. He just seemed to come from between the two houses and start shooting. Then he ducked behind the house again."

Naples apparently was struck by two shotgun blasts from behind

before he whirled around and began firing back. He crouched behind a porch railing and emptied his pistol while mortally wounded. Miss Vrancich was lying beside his body on the porch when police arrived.

Capt. Golden said seven .45-caliber revolver shells also were found and that it appeared an accomplice of the man with the shotgun had also been firing. None of the revolver slugs struck either Naples or the woman. The captain thought a third man was assigned to the gangland-style execution as driver of a getaway car.

Ashville Moves Into Regional

By JAMES I. SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

Sputting for 38 points in the second half, the Asheville Broncos advanced to the Ohio Class "A" Regional Tournament last night with a cliff-hanging 60-54 victory over a far underrated Radnor.

The Broncos came from a 32-22 halftime deficit to blast their opponents off the Ohio State Fairgrounds Coliseum floor, proving again they are a great second half ball club.

The Radnor Chiefs, considered a possession-type team, ran with the Broncos for the first two quarters and swept them off their feet behind the sensational shooting of Bobby James, a 6' 1" guard.

James outscored the entire Asheville varsity the first half with a 23-point performance. Radnor held the Broncos to a meager 22 markers.

IT TOOK THE PLAY of revived starters on the Asheville squad to pull this one out. Gary Gaines, ousted from a starting berth last night, came off the bench in the second half to halt James with six points, all in the final period.

The other spectacular marksman was Dickie Hollenback, who sent Asheville into lead it never lost. Bench-warmer Dave White trailed James in the Radnor scoring with nine points and a fine game in the high post position. Doug Firtenberger, a 6' 5" center, followed with five points and (Continued on Page Seven)

New Snow Makes Weatherman Ask — We Ready for Spring?

Anyone wanting a white Christmas should celebrate the holiday in March!

Even the Weatherman has lost count of the snows experienced in Pickaway County since the middle of February. Last night was no different as an unexpected 1½ to 1½ inches of the white stuff fell.

This is the second straight year that late February and March have been the real winter months for the area. This year there was a single snow from November 21 until mid-January, leaving Christmas as barren as the desert.

But unexpected or not, the State Highway and County Engineering Departments were "on the ball" and had crews out clearing the roads within ½ hour after the snow started falling at midnight.

BOTH departments expect the roads to be completely clear by 3 p. m., thanks to "Old Man Sun" and his bright rays. Many highways have been plowed back and all have been salted to hurry the melting operation.

Spring can't be too far away because the temperatures rise more quickly now, lessening the burden on the highway agencies.

The State Highway unit had six crews working all night and today while the county sent eight snow plows, eight salt spinners and one grader into the early morning dawn to battle the elements.

Most primary roads are clear and wet, but secondary state and county highways still are slippery in spots and caution should be used in driving.

It was a thin snow which blew and drifted a lot. The Stoutsville and Kingston Pikes were practically drifted shut, while other roads were bare of snow.

Melted snow measured 0.05 of an inch at the county weather bureau

Finch Trial Jury Still Deliberates

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The hours—and the rumors—keep piling up but the Finch murder trial jury maintains an air of unfrayed amiability—despite the serious questions it must resolve.

The jury begins its eighth day of deliberations today—trying to determine the fate of Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42-year-old surgeon, and his 23-year-old sweetheart, Carole Tregoff.

The co-defendants are accused of killing the doctor's wife, Barbara Jean Finch, 36, last July 18. They are charged with murder and conspiracy. If convicted, they could be condemned to the gas chamber or life imprisonment.

The seven-man, five-women jury has spent 35 hours in actual deliberation and 9 hours re-hearing transcripts of the trial testimony.

Ex-Columbus Policeman Enters Plea of Guilty

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Former Columbus policeman Raymond E. McKnight, 34, involved in last fall's police theft scandal, has pleaded guilty in Common Pleas Court to a petit larceny charge.

McKnight, off duty for 19 months because of a motorcycle accident injury, was accused of the theft of a garbage disposal and sink valued at $54. Sentencing was deferred Friday pending a report from McKnight's physician.

Survey Favors Clintland Oats

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Clintland oats were by far the favorite variety of oats with Ohio farmers in 1959, according to an oat variety survey made by the Ohio Crop Reporting Service.

Reports received from about 2,500 farmers raising oats revealed that Clintland was sown on 54 per cent of the oat acreage planted for the 1959 crop and was the most popular variety in all districts.

Clinton 59 was in second place with nearly 19 per cent of the planted acreage and Clinton was third with 15 per cent. The three leading varieties together made up about seven-eighths of the total.

Varieties planted on from one to two per cent of the state's acreage were Clarion, 2.1 per cent; Newton, 1.5 per cent, and Ajax, 1.1 per cent. Among other varieties reported on the survey but having less than one per cent of the state's acreage were Andrew, Bentland, Garry, Minhafer, Mo. 2-205, Putnam, Rodney, Cherokee and Nemaha.

ABOUT two per cent of the total acreage reported on this survey was planted to unknown varieties of spring oats. Winter oat varieties comprised only 4 per cent of the state's acreage.

Clintland oats were planted on more than half of the acreage in all but the south central and south eastern districts where the percentage of Clintland dropped to 41 per cent. Clinton 59 was the most popular in the northern third of the state while Clinton was most popular in the south.

Clarion oats were most heavily concentrated in central Ohio while Newton oats were most popular in the west central and southwestern areas.

Yieldwise, Clintland oats ranked first with a reported statewide average yield of 51 bushels per acre. Clinton 59 was second with a reported 49 bushel average and Newton was third with 48 bushels per acre. Clinton and Clarion were tied for fourth at 47 bushels each.

Yields of Clintland oats were higher in the northwestern, north central, central and east central areas and were a close second in the northeast. Clinton 59 was the most productive variety in the northeast, west central, southwest and southeast while Clinton was the highest yielding variety in the south central region.

Clarion, Clintland, and Rodney are the recommended varieties. These varieties have proved consistent in producing high yields combined with acceptable bushel weight, straw strength, disease resistance and grain quality. The many new oat varieties must be carefully evaluated for adoption and superiority in performance.

The use of high quality seed of a recommended variety, attention to the use of adequate fertilization, careful preparation of a weed-free seedbed and seeding as early in the spring as weather permits are essential to successful production of spring oats.

Pickaway County Wheat Crop In Support Program Heavily

Through February 15, farmers in Pickaway County had put 158,619 bushels of 1959 crop wheat under the price - support program, J. Austin Dowden, office manager for the Pickaway Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced.

This compares with 81,967 bushels of 1958-crop wheat put under support through the same date a year earlier. The current report on wheat includes activity through February 1 — the closing date this year because the usual January 31 maturity date occurred on Sunday — and any additional clean-up activity through February 15.

As of the end of January, farmers in Pickaway County had also put 543,238 bushels of 1959-crop corn under the price-support program. This compares with 194,758 bushels of 1958-crop corn under the program through the same date a year earlier.

May 31 is the final date for putting 1959-crop corn under price-support loans or purchase agreement.

Nationally, 1959-crop wheat put under the support program as of February 15 totaled 317 million bushels, compared with 603 million bushels of the 1958 crop put under the program as of a year earlier. As of January 31, the support program also covered 296 million bushels of 1959-crop corn, compared with 231 million bushels of the 1958 crop put under support through the same date a year earlier.

Of all the 1959 grain and oilseed crops reported throughout the nation, all except corn have gone under support in much smaller quantities than was the case for 1958 crops on the same date a year earlier.

New Program Aimed at Tax On Big Trucks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy expects to have a formal program of action ready next week to prevent trucking firms from ducking axle-mile taxes owed the state.

McElroy began to work on the plan on return from Washington where he asked U.S. Sens. Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young for help.

He said the new program, designed to collect some three million dollars in back taxes on big trucks, will be forwarded to both Ohio senators. They have pledged their assistance.

The attorney general said he needs their aid in preventing delinquent trucking firms from selling their Interstate Commerce Commission permits without paying the taxes owed to Ohio. He explained that a Michigan firm recently made about $100,000 in taxes virtually uncollectible by selling its operating permit to another company.

McElroy has suggested that the ICC hold up such transfers pending action on back taxes.

The back taxes piled up while truckers awaited the outcome of a court test of Ohio's axle tax on big trucks that became effective in 1954.

The tax applies to trucks with three or more axles traveling Ohio highways. McElroy hinted at another tax collection plan. "There is another legal approach to the problem that we would like to examine," he said without elaboration.

Among other varieties reported on the survey but having less than one per cent of the state's acreage were Andrew, Bentland, Garry, Minhafer, Mo. 9-265, Putnam, Rodney, Cherokee and Nemaha.

ABOUT two per cent of the total acreage reported on this survey was planted to unknown varieties of spring oats. Winter oat varieties comprised only 4 per cent of the state's acreage.

Clinton oats were planted on more than half of the acreage in all but the south central and south eastern districts where the percentage of Clinton dropped to 41 per cent. Clinton 59 was the most popular in the northern third of the state while Clinton was most popular in the south.

Clinton oats were most heavily concentrated in central Ohio while Newton oats were most popular in the west central and southwestern areas.

Yieldwise, Clinton oats ranked first with a reported statewide average yield of 51 bushels per acre. Clinton 59 was second with a reported 49 bushel average and Newton was third with 48 bushels per acre. Clinton and Clinton were tied for fourth at 47 bushels each.

Yields of Clinton oats were higher in the northwestern, north central, central and east central areas and were a close second in the northeast. Clinton 59 was the most productive variety in the northeast, west central, southwest and southeast while Clinton was the highest yielding variety in the south central region.

Clinton, Clinton, and Rodney are the recommended varieties. These varieties have proved consistent in producing high yields combined with acceptable bushel weight, straw strength, disease resistance and grain quality. The many new oat varieties must be carefully evaluated for adoption and superiority in performance.

The use of high quality seed of a recommended variety, attention to the use of adequate fertilization, careful preparation of a weed-free seedbed and seeding as early in the spring as weather permits are essential to successful production of spring oats.

Pickaway County Wheat Crop In Support Program Heavily

Through February 15, farmers in Pickaway County had put 138,619 bushels of 1959 crop wheat under the price - support program, J. Austin Dowden, office manager for the Pickaway Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced.

This compares with 81,967 bushels of 1958-crop wheat put under support through the same date a year earlier. The current report on wheat includes activity through February 1 — the closing date this year because the usual January 31 maturity date occurred on Sunday — and any additional clean-up activity through February 15.

As of the end of January, farmers in Pickaway County had also put 543,238 bushels of 1959-crop corn under the price-support program. This compares with 194,738 bushels of 1958-crop corn under the program through the same date a year earlier.

May 31 is the final date for putting 1959-crop corn under price-support loans or purchase agreement.

Nationally, 1959-crop wheat put under the support program as of February 15 totaled 317 million bushels, compared with 603 million bushels of the 1958 crop put under the program as of a year earlier. As of January 31, the support program also covered 296 million bushels of 1959-crop corn, compared with 231 million bushels of the 1958 crop put under support through the same date as year earlier.

Of all the 1959 grain and oilseed crops reported throughout the nation, all except corn have gone under support in much smaller quantities than was the case for 1958 crops on the same date a year earlier.

New Program Aimed at Tax On Big Trucks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy expects to have a formal program of action ready next week to prevent trucking firms from ducking axle-mile taxes owed the state.

McElroy began to work on the plan on return from Washington where he asked U.S. Sens. Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young for help.

He said the new program, designed to collect some three million dollars in back taxes on big trucks, will be forwarded to both Ohio senators. They have pledged their assistance.

The attorney general said he needs their aid in prevailing delinquent trucking firms from selling their Interstate Commerce Commission permits without paying the taxes owed to Ohio. He explained that a Michigan firm recently made about $100,000 in taxes virtually uncollectible by selling its operating permit to another company.

McElroy has suggested that the ICC hold up such transfers pending action on back taxes.

The back taxes piled up while truckers awaited the outcome of a court test of Ohio's axle tax on big trucks that became effective in 1954.

The tax applies to trucks with three or more axles traveling Ohio highways. McElroy hinted at another tax collection plan. "There is another legal approach to the problem that we would like to examine," he said without elaboration.

Circleville, Ohio

Credit Noted as Farm Tool Which Should Be Used Wisely

Credit is a tool, the same as power equipment, electricity, fertilizer and newer farming methods, according to George Hamrick, County extension agent. Like many other tools, the credit tool can cut two ways.

Properly used, it can contribute to a larger income, greater security, and the attainment of individual and family goals, Hamrick said. Used unwisely, credit can be a liability rather than an asset and a threat to the financial future of the user.

Where a man used to "earn his bread by the sweat of his brow" he now earns a living largely by the use of tools, including financial tools as well as mechanical tools. In modern farming, as in other businesses, the key to a satisfactory money income is the proper combination of productive assets, land, labor and livestock, Hamrick noted. Borrowed funds are used by most successful farmers as a means or tool for achieving this proper combination or balance.

CREDIT may be used to buy a farm or add acreage to the present unit; to build, improve, or renovate buildings; to buy livestock and machinery; or to cover operating expenses.

Pickaway County farmers are invited to attend a meeting March 17 at the Fairgrounds Coliseum at 8 p. m. to discuss the use of credit as a farm tool. This meeting will be to give helpful information to farm families in using credit more effectively in organizing and operating their farm business.

Ask a Little Child

Did you ever notice that small children talk about God with a faith so simple, so beautiful that you cannot question its sincerity? Ask them why they like the rain, for instance, and they may answer, "Because God made it, so the flowers will grow."

Unlike grown-ups, children accept God's order without a doubt. They believe in his love for them as naturally as they get up with the daylight and go to bed with the dark.

In God's eyes, we are all children . . . His children. And what we adults have lost in the way of vision, in the way of faith, must be renewed and replenished with each day and advancing year. We, too, can find God again—and, often, ourselves as well—by going to church, by praying, and by accepting the love He stands so ready to give us.

Make Church - Going a Habit

Census To Be World Wide

By the end of 1964 few individuals anywhere in the world will have escaped becoming census statistics.

This year the United States, in making its periodic head count, will be joined by approximately 60 other countries in similar — if not as far reaching — counts. Next year 40 countries will count noses.

Before 1965 censuses will have been taken by more than 200 countries. Four of the nations preparing to conduct censuses will be ascertaining actual population totals for the first time. They are Afghanistan, Liberia, Ethiopia and Indonesia, the last being one of the world's most populous nations.

Many of the nations will make their counts under guidance of one or another of the 700 experts who have been given training in techniques by the U. S. Bureau of the Census. In the past the most widespread efforts to gather population figures had been the censuses in the Western Hemisphere conducted at the behest of the Organization of American States.

When all the counting is over and the statistics from all the countries are put together, the world will know better than ever how many mouths it must feed, how many minds it must educate, and how many people it has to do its work. Such knowledge can be a tool in attacking many of the problems mankind faces.

Courtin' Main

A politician's paradise is a campaign without any opposition.

March--Month of Promise

March is not to be sneezed at, as months to it. It is the month that ushers in spring, although setting an arbitrary date for the arrival of seasons can become confusing. In the South spring arrives earlier than March 21, for all practical purposes. In some northern areas it arrives considerably later, for ditto.

But March is the great month of hope. It holds out the promise of a new and verdant season, of the approaching days when everyone will enjoy the delights of summer.

March has been variously described by the poets, with heavy emphasis on March winds and budding nature. But this picture, especially as to the former, has probably been overdrawn. At any rate, those who reside in areas of high summer humidity always find winds pleasant.

March is a popular month because in the North the extreme cold begins to relax its grip and in the South temperatures are just about ideal. Few months can lay claim to bringing satisfaction to so many people.

France Gets Most Aid

A breakdown of U. S. foreign military aid has been provided by the Pentagon, which yielded to demands by Congress. The public is entitled to such information.

During the 10 years 1950-59, France was the largest recipient of American aid under the Mutual Security Program, getting $4.5 billion worth. The second biggest recipient was Chiang Kai-shek's government on Formosa, with $2 billion. No. 3 on the list is Italy, with just under $2 billion.

Turkey, target of the imperialist ambitions of tsars and commissars alike, got $1.7 billion in American military aid. Today it is a stabilizing factor in the turbulent Middle East.

The Republic of Korea ranks fifth, with $1.3 billion. These five nations provide a representative picture. Why the Pentagon was reluctant to let the American people know where the money went is a mystery.

Hero or Naive Observer?

By George Sokolsky

The official paper of Castro, "Revolucion," on Jan. 25, 1960, praised Herbert Matthews, Latin American expert of "The New York Times," as "a great North American." I rise to Herbert Matthews' defense. He did not, after all, tell Fidel Castro to behave like a beast!

"Revolucion" said: "What is impressive about Matthews' recent act in our defense is the special circumstance under which it occurred. He certainly did not face the biased opinion of a group of foreigners, unable perhaps to understand us and who, in the long run, have no reason to love us other than for the satisfaction of their immediate needs."

"He confronted with the undeniable truth a deserter who first saw the light of the sun on these Cuban shores and went abroad to turn against us by so many inches of space in the 'Miami Herald' and to brazenly discredit us on the television screen, betraying his country in a shameful alliance with vindictive criminals and unscrupulous businessmen."

Further, "Revolucion" said: "While Matthews has had a warm place in our hearts for some time and while on more than one occasion we have feared that those who monopolize everything in his country, from newspapers to steel, from buying people's dignity to the right to dispose, every now and then, of millions of lives with which to wage wars to uphold their sovereignty, would embitter him against us and we would lose him, it is with this last gesture of his that our gratitude has grown to great proportions."

The language of this article is mindful of the praise for John

Reed and Big Bill Haywood. Since those days, the Russian Communists have forgotten the word, Bolshevik, and they do not heap crumbs of praise upon those aliens who see in them perfection which they know they do not possess.

Soon we shall read a "Revolucion" article praising Jack Paar as a great philosopher because he "senses" the goodness of the Cuban soul.

The Cuban newspaper says: "... To such factions (in the United States) is due the ill will which hits North Americans at every point in the world where one takes their dollars without giving one's heart in exchange. 'Far be it from us to rise up against them. It is with such deceived people that we shake hands as with all peoples, regardless of how much those who distort reality try to make enemies of us.'

"It is, moreover, such people that we greet every day in the form of thousands of white and black, Catholic and Presbyterian tourists who, like Herbert Matthews, do more for the solidarity of all men than all the millions from all mutual-aid programs and from all inter-American banks."

What the Castrites are doing obviously is to irritate the American people and the Congress to such a pitch that we shall, in anger, blow them into the Caribbean. When the time comes, we shall cut off the sugar quota and the sugar subsidy, for obviously it makes no sense to assist such a country.

If Castro finds his country enslaved by our generosity, he has the option of not accepting either the enslavement or the generosity.

As for the extraordinary praise for Herbert Matthews of "The New York Times," this is unfortunate for Matthews because it raises a question which Sen. Fulbright ought immediately to investigate. Why was Herbert Matthews called in by the State Department to brief Earl E. T. Smith on Cuba when Smith was appointed to be our Ambassador to that country?

As things turned out, was Matthews' judgment of the Castro revolution correct from the standpoint of the United States? Does not this official article give the impression that Matthews' attitude was and is partisan? Read this from the "Revolucion" article:

"Heroic was his climb of the mountains of Oriente, where he risked danger of ambush by Batista's troops, in order to proclaim to the world in truthful testimony and with his accurate camera that the hero from the (yacht) 'Granma' had not died. He then showed heroism in appearing among people enveloped in a blockade of hatred and discredit. He was heroic three days ago when he had to stir us up against some of our people."

Mysterious noises from outer space may indicate new worlds being created, suggests a noted astronomer. Not being patterned after this one, surely.

Communist North Viet Nam has begun its first official census. Sort of a Red Nose count?

Men's clothing, we read, may some day be made from plywood. Shiver my timbers!

Residents of Crewe, England, flooded city hall with protests when a new $33,000 town clock boomed out 10 p. m. for a solid hour. What were they griping about?—they certainly got their money's worth!

Six million square miles of the earth's surface is covered by a permanent sheet of ice — Factographs. Nature's cold storage?

An inventor, according to a magazine item, has invented a set of magnetic false teeth. What's so attractive about that?

Now there's an instrument so delicate it's capable of detecting the footfalls of an ant. However, that won't stop the pesky mites next summer from sneaking up on unwary picnickers.

Try and Stop Me

"SILVER DOLLAR" Tabor, a Denver millionaire in the gay 90s, built the town's first oprey house. It was an ornate, gingerbread affair, and Tabor the tycoon loved every fancy brick and chandelier. One item displeased him, however: a portrait of William Shakespeare in the gilded lobby. "Take that thing down!" roared Tabor. "Who is William Shakespeare, and what in hell did he ever do for Colorado?"

Some Pregnancy Troubles

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
Pregnancy is a perfectly natural process. And, as such, nature usually carries it out to perfection.

Yet complications do sometimes occur, and it is wise to be alert to signals that something might be going amiss so that the doctor can be notified in plenty of time.

No serious problems are apt to develop during pregnancy unless one or more of the following warning signs are present.

Bleeding from the vagina. This is the earliest sign of a possible miscarriage.

A slight spotting probably means that a miscarriage is threatening. If bleeding is more severe, it may mean that a miscarriage actually is occurring.

Most miscarriages occur during the first three months of pregnancy.

Other warning signs include: Severe or continuing headaches. Blurring of vision or spots before the eyes.

Chills and fever. Sharp or continuous pain in the abdomen.

Puffiness or swelling of the hands or face, or marked swelling of the pain or burning on passing urine.

A noticeable decrease in the amount of urine passed. Sudden gush of water from the vagina before the baby is due.

Severe or continuing nausea and vomiting.

This latter is an unusual complication, but it does occur. It is much more severe than morning sickness and generally begins after the third month of pregnancy.

While eating a little food, even a few crackers, usually helps ease morning sickness, eating will not cure severe vomiting. In fact, it might even make it worse.

Most women who suffer this type of vomiting often are highly nervous, have a poor diet, or are subject to glandular trouble. Sometimes, extreme worry over serious family problems or some other troubles may be enough to cause this disorder.

At any rate, any one of these symptoms is a signal to call the doctor right away. In the vast majority of cases, he can clear up the troublesome situation.

Question and Answer
Mrs. E. W.: I am in my late teens and have a set of twins.

Is it normal to menstruate every 22 or 23 days instead of every 28? Will you also tell me if it is possible to be pregnant and still menstruate?

Answer: Individuals differ in their menstrual periods.

Occasionally one may be pregnant and still menstruate.

It would be best to consult your doctor about these matters.

Chief Justice Takes Look at Dem Squabble

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court has ordered the Cuyahoga County Election Board to say by Tuesday why Thomas P. Burke, a Cleveland, should not be ruled off the May 3 primary ballot.

Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant filed the action for a writ of prohibition against the board.

Counsel for former U.S. Sen. Thomas A. Burke asked the high court to prevent Thomas P. Burke from seeking election as a delegate to the Democratic National Convention.

The former senator claimed that Thomas P. Burke failed to meet residence requirements to be a candidate in the 23rd Congressional District of Cuyahoga County.

Former Sen. Burke is on a slate of delegate candidates pledged to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle as Ohio favorite son. The other Burke is pledged to himself, but attorneys claim he filed so as to draw votes away from the former senator. They said that would add a slate filed in opposition to DiSalle's by Ray T. Miller of Cleveland, Cuyahoga County Democratic chairman.

Both DiSalle and Miller candidates are committed to U.S. Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts for president.

Foster Parents' Case Scheduled For State Review

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Richard Combs' fight to keep their gifted 4-year-old foster child will be reviewed by the state Board of Child Welfare next Thursday.

F. Morse Archer of Camden, board president, said he has been asked to reconsider the decision to shift Alice Marie's temporary home to a permanent one with more emphasis on books and less on television.

Edwin Hann Jr., acting director of the state Child Welfare Bureau, said a final decision probably would await the outcome of court action launched by the Combs couple.

But he told a newsman that in view of the two-year lapse between the transfer decision and the current furor the Old Bridge couple's chance to keep Alice permanently might be looked at again.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Herald welcomes expressions of opinion from its readers on subjects of general interest through letters to the editor. We insist that all letters must be signed with the name and address of the writer. However, the name will not be used in publication of the letter if the writer requests. A pen name or initials will be substituted. We will NOT use anonymous letters. We believe that a letter to the editor column can serve as a public forum. Editor Circleville Herald:

"Now we have got the beneficiaries of the high priced school systems quoting statistics."

Bill Nye, an old time humorist, once said, "There are three kinds of lies—Lies, big lies and statistics."

Whenever some people are losing an argument they begin to quote statistics, like the clerk from the Teays Valley School district.

What essential difference does it make about a few errors? That doesn't refute the main facts, that we the tax payers cannot afford, these million dollar schools.

And another thing, don't be afraid to sign your name. This is not Russia, you have a right to your opinion and you won't be banished to Siberia.

The editor of The Herald will not print anything libelous for he is for freedom of speech as much as you and I.

In ancient Rome when things got out of hand they formed a triumvirate. That's a good old Latin word, brother, that means three-of-a-kind. So in this school controversy we have two triumvirates.

No. 1—The State Board of Education, The County Board of Education, all the high priced help that are working under them.

Against this extravagant proposition are — The poor tax payers, The poorer tax payers, The poorest tax payers.

I belong to the last class and if this school amendment carries I won't be even in that class, (if there is a lower one.) I wish some of you people of Pickaway County and especially of the Westfall District would come to the Darbyville school and see the $3000 room the Westfall Board fixed up for themselves.

Big long, glass-topped tables, big leather chairs, ice cooled water fixture, a separate room for the clerk and assistant.

Boy, oh, boy, The president of the Pennsylvania Railway, or Standard Oil Co. have nothing better.

3000: Now ladies and gentlemen, that is a statistic.

I forgot to mention neon lights and other high-priced fixtures.

We poor people in Muhlenberg haven't even got a member on the board. We are like the poor family that has five boys. We are the youngest and wear all the cut down pants, torn sweaters, and old shoes of the older boys.

Come and see our lovely board room. I know you will be pleased and astonished.

In closing let me say I am glad

Census To Be World Wide

By the end of 1964 few individuals anywhere in the world will have escaped becoming census statistics.

This year the United States, in making its periodic head count, will be joined by approximately 60 other countries in similar — if not as far reaching — counts. Next year 40 countries will count noses.

Before 1965 censuses will have been taken by more than 200 countries. Four of the nations preparing to conduct censuses will be ascertaining actual population totals for the first time. They are Afghanistan, Liberia, Ethiopia and Indonesia, the last being one of the world's most populous nations.

Many of the nations will make their counts under guidance of one or another of the 700 experts who have been given training in techniques by the U. S. Bureau of the Census. In the past the most widespread efforts to gather population figures had been the censuses in the Western Hemisphere conducted at the behest of the Organization of American States.

When all the counting is over and the statistics from all the countries are put together, the world will know better than ever how many mouths it must feed, how many minds it must educate, and how many people it has to do its work. Such knowledge can be a tool in attacking many of the problems mankind faces.

March--Month of Promise

March is not to be sneezed at, as months to. It is the month that ushers in spring, although setting an arbitrary date for the arrival of seasons can become confusing. In the South spring arrives earlier than March 21, for all practical purposes. In some northern areas it arrives considerably later, for ditto.

But March is the great month of hope. It holds out the promise of a new and verdant season, of the approaching days when everyone will enjoy the delights of summer.

Hero or Naive Observer?

By George Sokolsky

The official paper of Castro, "Revolucion," on Jan. 25, 1960, praised Herbert Matthews, Latin American expert of "The New York Times," as "a great North American." I rise to Herbert Matthews' defense. He did not, after all, tell Fidel Castro to behave like a beast!

"Revolucion" said: "What is impressive about Matthews' recent act in our defense is the special circumstance under which it occurred. He certainly did not face the biased opinion of a group of foreigners, unable perhaps to understand us and who, in the long run, have no reason to love us other than for the satisfaction of their immediate needs."

"He confronted with the undeniable truth a deserter who first saw the light of the sun on these Cuban shores and went abroad to turn against us by so many inches of space in the 'Miami Herald' and to brazenly discredit us on the television screen, betraying his country in a shameful alliance with vindictive criminals and unscrupulous businessmen."

Further, "Revolucion" said: "While Matthews has had a warm place in our hearts for some time and while on more than one occasion we have feared that those who monopolize everything in his country, from newspapers to steel, from buying people's dignity to the right to dispose, every now and then, of millions of lives with which to wage wars to uphold their sovereignty, would embitter him against us and we would lose him, it is with this last gesture of his that our gratitude has grown to great proportions."

The language of this article is mindful of the praise for John

Reed and Big Bill Haywood. Since those days, the Russian Communists have forgotten the word, Bolshevik, and they do not heap crumbs of praise upon those aliens who see in them perfections which they know they do not possess.

Soon we shall read a "Revolucion" article praising Jack Paar as a great philosopher because he "senses" the goodness of the Cuban soul.

The Cuban newspaper says: "...To such factions (in the United States) is due the ill will which hits North Americans at every point in the world where one takes their dollars without giving one's heart in exchange. 'Far be it from us to rise up against them. It is with such deceived people that we shake hands as with all peoples, regardless of how much those who distort reality try to make enemies of us."

"It is, moreover, such people that we greet every day in the form of thousands of white and black, Catholic and Presbyterian tourists who...and like Herbert Matthews, do more for the solidarity of all men than all the millions from all mutual-aid programs and from all inter-American banks."

What the Castrites are doing obviously is to irritate the American people and the Congress to such a pitch that we shall, in anger, blow them into the Caribbean. When the time comes, we shall cut off the sugar quota and the sugar subsidy, for obviously it makes no sense to assist such a country.

If Castro finds his country enslaved by our generosity, he has the option of not accepting either the enslavement or the generosity.

As for the extraordinary praise for Herbert Matthews of "The New York Times," this is unfortunate for Matthews because it raises a question which Sen. Fulbright ought immediately to investigate. Why was Herbert Matthews called in by the State Department to brief Earl E. T. Smith on Cuba when Smith was appointed to be our Ambassador to that country?

As things turned out, was Matthews' judgment of the Castro revolution correct from the standpoint of the United States? Does not this official article give the impression that Matthews' attitude was and is partisan? Read this from the "Revolucion" article:

"Heroic was his climb of the mountains of Oriente, where he risked danger of ambush by Batista's troops, in order to proclaim to the world in truthful testimony and with his accurate camera that the hero from the (yacht) 'Granma' had not died. He then showed heroism in appearing among people enveloped in a blockade of hatred and discredit. He was heroic three days ago when he had to stir us up against some of our people."

Some Pregnancy Troubles

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Pregnancy is a perfectly natural process. And, as such, nature usually carries it out to perfection.

Yet complications do sometimes occur, and it is wise to be alert to signals that something might be going amiss so that the doctor can be notified in plenty of time.

No serious problems are apt to develop during pregnancy unless one or more of the following warning signs are present.

Bleeding from the vagina. This is the earliest sign of a possible miscarriage.

A slight spotting probably means that a miscarriage is threatening. If bleeding is more severe, it may mean that a miscarriage actually is occurring.

Most miscarriages occur during the first three months of pregnancy.

Other warning signs include: Severe or continuing headaches. Blurring of vision or spots before the eyes.

Chills and fever. Sharp or continuous pain in the abdomen.

Puffiness or swelling of the hands or face, or marked swelling of the pain or burning on passing urine. A noticeable decrease in the amount of urine passed.

Sudden gush of water from the vagina before the baby is due. Severe or continuing nausea and vomiting.

This latter is an unusual complication, but it does occur. It is much more severe than morning sickness and generally begins after the third month of pregnancy.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Running Away Is a Symptom

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my 6-year-old daughter. She is always running away. I hate to keep her locked up all the time, but the minute I turn my back she runs away.

The police have brought her back so many times I am ashamed.

I put her in a nursery school and she ran away from there yesterday. They told me not to send her any more as they couldn't be responsible. I can't blame them.

Saturday she ran away from home at 10:00 a.m. and the police didn't bring her home until 10:00 p.m. My husband is away with the Navy and worrying about this child keeps me on edge all the time.

time. Everyone, even the police, says she must have an emotional disturbance. Can you, or anyone who has lived through this problem, help me, Abby?

DEAR WIFE: If your wife had a toothache, you wouldn't hesitate to take her to a dentist. An "emotional disturbance" usually can be cured and deserves as much attention. Talk this over with your family doctor. Running away is a symptom. I urge you to waste no time.

DEAR ABBY: Why don't we have marriage bureaus? Every city has employment agencies, both public and private, to assist people in finding jobs. But romance is left to sheer chance. If locating mates were done in a businesslike way, there would be fewer bachelors, maiden ladies and other unattached individuals. What do you think?

DEAR ORGANIZED: Cupid doesn't carry a compass. If I had to "locate" a man with the assistance of an IBM machine, I'd wonder what was wrong with him.

DEAR ABBY: My husband works for a large concern, and the switchboard girl is my problem. She's divorced, attractive and efficient. But she tells the men the filthiest jokes imaginable. Naturally she doesn't have to twist my husband's arm very hard to get him to listen.

She has the nerve to call my husband up at home in the evenings to tell him a new joke. Once we were in the middle of a bridge game and this trollop called, so he left the table and stood there laughing like a hyena while she told him a story.

At the company party, while I helped serve, she was off in a corner telling some of her jokes to a bunch of howling men.

Several other wives have complained about this. Do you think the opinions of eight wives would be sufficient to impress the personnel manager?

DEAR HAD: Possibly. Provided the personnel manager wasn't one of the "howling men" she had in a corner.

Highlights in the Life, Career of President Eisenhower

MODEST HOME in Abilene, Kan., is where young Dwight D. Eisenhower studied to pass entrance exams into West Point.

NEWLY GRADUATED from West Point, Lt. Dwight D. Eisenhower and his 19-year-old bride, Mamie Doud, posed for a photograph at his first assignment at San Antonio, Texas.

DURING HOOVER ADMINISTRATION, still young Major Eisenhower served under Chief of Staff Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

END OF WORLD WAR II found allies Russian Marshal Georgi Zhukov and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, former supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe, together in Moscow.

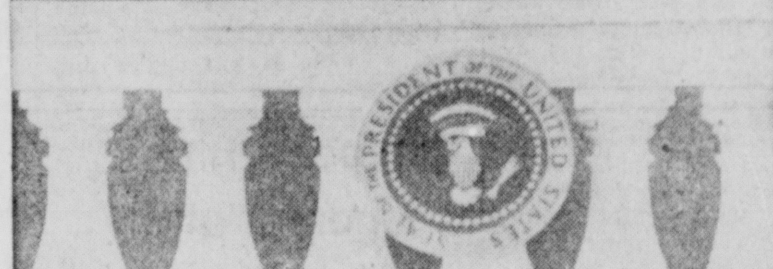

SON JOHN (in uniform) and Mamie watched General Eisenhower don robes to become Columbia university president.

RETURN TO UNIFORM came when western powers joined in forming the North Atlantic Treaty organization and Columbia President Eisenhower was asked to command Allied forces.

AGAIN IN MUFTI, Dwight D. Eisenhower made whistle stops and big city rallies as he campaigned for Presidency in 1952.

INAUGURATION in 1953 was a solemn affair as a Republican administration took office for the first time in two decades.

PRELIMINARY to inauguration for old soldier Eisenhower was personal visit to Korean President Syngman Rhee and front.

THROUGH PRESS CONFERENCES like this President Eisenhower let electorate know of administration's policies, plans.

THIS "SUMMIT MEETING" of Big Four powers in Geneva in 1955 did not settle foreign policy problems, and a NATO meeting, attended by Ike, was held in Paris in December, 1957, to discuss the Russian Space Age threat. From left are Soviet Premier Bulganin; President Eisenhower; French Premier Faure; British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden.

TIMES OUT were few and far between for President Eisenhower and his four brothers, but when they got together, they really enjoyed each other's company and a little horseplay.

GOAL FOR THE FUTURE, a future out of the spotlight of public life and administration, is this quiet Gettysburg farm upon which Ike and Mamie lavished much time, attention and care.

FAVORITE HOBBY of a man named Eisenhower, whether he was General, Mr. President or just plain Mister, was golf.

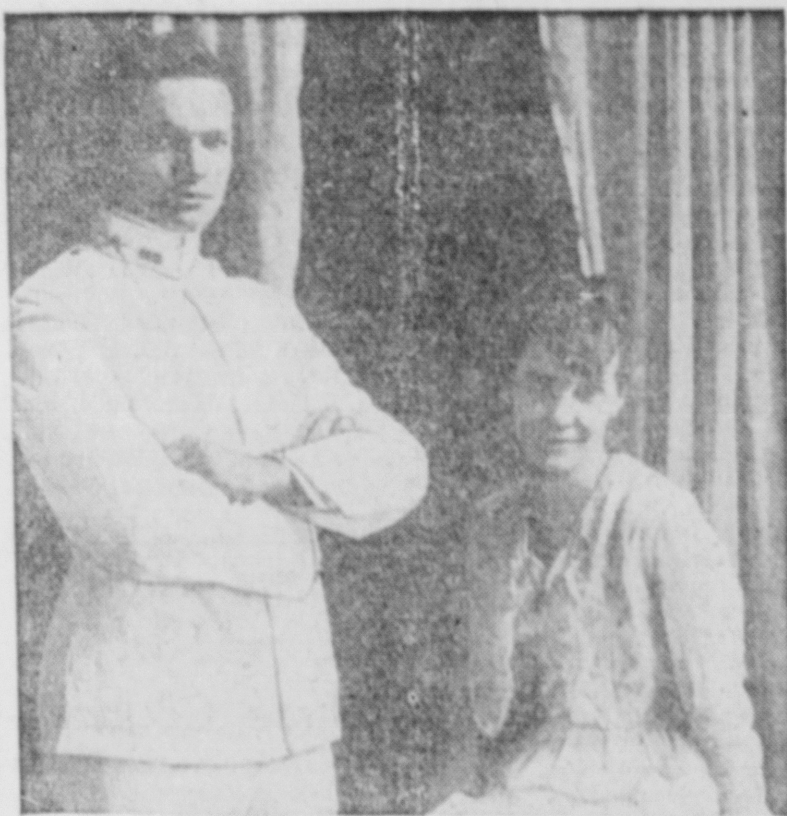

A DIPLOMATIC high spot in the Eisenhower career came when he hosted Soviet Premier and Mrs. Khrushchev.

two Radnor guards, Paul Fryman and Bobby Sellers, each added three markers.

Ashville got off to its usual slow start in the initial period, allowing a torrid Radnor to scorch the nets for a 19-10 lead.

James led the scoring burst with 14 markers as he hit 6 of 9 attempts and two free throws. He was throwing them in from all over. The Broncos were stymied and rattled, never expecting a supposedly weak hitting team like Radnor to burn the nets as it did.

The Chiefs never let up and soared into a 32-22 intermission lead.

Ashville committed seven costly turnovers the first half to Radnor's three. Its attempts to work the ball into Hoover proved futile and Radnor controlled the boards.

James led allfirst half scoring with 23 points, followed by Ashville's Hoover and Rathburn with seven points apiece and Fout contributed five.

DURING the halftime breathing spell, Bronco coach, Russell Gregg, switched Gaines to guard James. He never made a better decision in his coaching career.

Continuing its full court man-to-man press starting the second half, the Broncos narrowed the margin to 33-32 as Gregg drove for two and a free throw. Hoover hit a free throw and turn-around jump, Gaines dunked two free throws and Hollenback hit from 20 feet out on the side. Only Garrison's free throw interrupted Ashville's rally.

The valiant chiefs roared back to a six-point lead as White hit a drive-in and free throw and Fryman snared a side-court two-point.

Gaines kept Ashville in there with four points and Hollenback tallied on a fast break before Rathburn put Ashville into the lead for the first time with 2:03 left on the clock in the third stanza.

Another snazzy bucket by Rathburn shoved Ashville into a 42-39 third period margin. Ashville outscored Radnor, 20-7, in the eight-minute stanza.

THE BRONCOS jumped to a 48-41 fourth quarter margin. Then Radnor exploded for seven straight markers as Sellers connected for two field goals. Firstenbergger nabbed a tip-in and James hit two free throws to tie the score at 48-48.

Hollenback then hit three straight, Rathburn bucketed one from the corner and one at the foul circle to be climaxed by Gregg's two charity tosses to give Ashville its 24th victory against two losses, 16th in a row and eighth in tourney play.

The Chiefs had Ashville scouted well. It triple-teamed Hoover under the offensive boards, dropping off Ashville's front court men. Hollenback was able to drive to the foul circle and shoot without trouble. Once he gained his eye, Radnor was finished, completing its fine season with a 17-7 record.

The Chiefs dominated the contest throughout the first half, but Hoover rallied the Broncos on the boards in the second half to snare nine of his 11 rebounds for the game.

Rathburn led Ashville on the boards with 13 grabs. For the game, Ashville nabbed 36 rebounds with the majority in the final two quarters.

In all, Ashville lost the ball on errors a total of 11 times to Radnor's six, exemplifying the Chiefs' fine ball-handling. The Broncos' teamwork found them staging 18 assists with Gregg and Hollenback tied with five apiece. Radnor had 11 assists, led by Waddell's five and Goodin's four.

A SOLID shooting squad, Ashville hit 53.6 per cent the second half from the field to Radnor's 27.6 per cent.

For the game, Ashville notched 24 of 50 attempts for 48 per cent. Radnor banged away for 22 of 65 for 33.8 per cent.

A complete reversal from Wednesday night's 59-54 win over Darby, the Broncos netted 12 of 16 from the charity stripe for 75 per cent. The Chiefs connected on 10 of 18 for 55.5 per cent.

Although Ashville's pressing defense wasn't too effective in stealing the ball or rattling Radnor, it speeded up the game and that worked to the Broncos' advantage.

The score was tied twice and the lead changed hands just once. Personal fouls were even, 13 on each quintet.

The win gave Ashville a trip to REVITALIZED BRONCOS—Pictured above are two reasons why the Ashville Broncos are one of the "Sweet Sixteen" in Class "A" basketball competition. This duo, Dickie Hollenback, top, and Gary Gaines, bottom, came up with tournament jitters early on the trail, but in the last two contests they have been instrumental in Ashville wins.

SPORTS BRIEFS

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — What would Manager Joe Gordon like to see turn up in the 31-game exhibition schedule which the Cleveland Indians open here today against San Francisco?

Three things, he said: A regular center fielder, a couple of starting pitchers and additional bench strength.

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain of the Philadelphia Warriors almost single-handedly rewrote the National Basketball Assn. record book as he figured in eight of the 11 new individual marks.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Thirty-six veterans of the National Football League, three from each of the 12 old clubs, are headed for the new Dallas team today — if they are willing.

It's up to the Dallas Rangers to sign them. Their identities will not be known until tonight. But they can be assured of a warm welcome in Dallas if they choose to continue their careers in Texas.

the regional at Troy. It will meet the victors from Cincinnati, Springfield and Troy, which will be decided tonight.

The tournament drawing will be held tomorrow at 11 a. m. in Troy. This is the farthest any team has gone along the tournament trail under the expert tutelage of Gregg in his five years at Ashville.

Possible opponents of Ashville at the Troy Regional are Trenton (18-2) which meets Goshen (15-8); Arcanum (20-2) which plays Bellbrook (21-5); and Salem Local (22-0) which plays Rushsylvania (23-1).

Tourney Topics

"Just four games to go for the Ohio State Class "A" Basketball Championship" is what Ashville fans are dreaming of and saying under their breath today.

The Broncos assured themselves a berth in the "Sweet Sixteen" and chance in the Troy regional tournament to be held Wednesday, Thursday and next Saturday in Hobart Arena.

The last team to go this far in state tourney action was William-sport in 1954.

Coach Russell Gregg had several comments to make on last night's Radnor win, 60-54, but couldn't get away to talk to sports writers until after his Broncos gave him a shower, clothes and all.

ASKED WHAT HE said to his Broncos at halftime to make them come out and overcome a halftime 10-point deficit and go on to run Radnor off the floor, Gregg said, "I asked the boys if they thought I brought along an extra suit for nothing."

Believe it or not, but this same Radnor High School downed another great Ashville cage squad of yesteryear, the 1938 quintet by a score of 23-21.

The scene was the semifinals of the Central District Tourney and one of the members of the squad was the late great Jay Gregg, brother of Coach Russ and father of scrappy guard, Jimmy Gregg.

The younger Gregg, fourth to come along for an Ashville squad, played his heart out last night, never letting the Delaware County and League champs rest a moment.

The 5'9" junior never rattled in bringing the ball down court on the Radnor press and was superb in passing off as he chalked up five assists and drove for eight big markers.

Coach Gregg and probably Ashville school superintendent, C. E. Mahaffey, will leave early tomorrow for the regional drawing at Troy.

REGG always wanted to be entered in the Troy regional, feeling the Athens tourney was a much tougher with Glenford (21-5), an ever dangerous tournament team, and former state champion; New Boston (22-0), which has downed 51 of 55 Class "AA" schools in the past three years and the winner of the Fairland (17-5) - Nelsonville game (14-9).

Granville will make the third undefeated squad in that regional. The Aces are 24-0, but its victories are less impressive than Glenford's and New Boston's, a weak tournament squad.

Gregg said last night that his boys didn't run enough the first half and Radnor's height hurt tremendously under the boards. "But my lads have proved all year that they have all the heart needed and have come back innumerable times in the second half to win," Gregg said.

Radnor Coach Richard Meyer said even he was surprised at the scoring spurt of his Chiefs. He said there isn't a man on the team averaging more than 10 points per game.

Meyer said he figured Ashville had beaten all ball control teams it met so he might as well run his squad, and that's what he did, nearly succeeding in beating the Broncos at their own game.

It was a career high for Radnor's Bobby James, who scorched the nets for 29 points last night, 23 coming the first half to outscore the entire Ashville unit.

AND DON'T forget, Radnor didn't have a senior starter. Meyer started four juniors and a sophomore. Gregg said he was glad to get by them this year because next year Radnor should be exceptionally tough.

Spirited Ashville fans met their ball team at the Great Southern Shopping Center last night after the game and followed them into Ashville. More than 400 cars were on hand to greet the team, win or lose.

The auto caravan extended nearly two miles down Route 23 and shut-in Ashville residents had no trouble hearing the outcome for miles away.

The Fairgrounds' Coliseum was enough to scare an experienced professional team with its hug expanse. The floor seemed like a boxing arena with the world's attention centered right on you.

The coliseum was less than half filled but Ashville and Radnor fans were heard. It took Ashville a half to get adjusted to the floor, but not Radnor, which bounced to a 10-point halftime lead and then cooled off considerably.

Walter Gregg, physical education and health director for Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., and brother of Russ, came home yesterday morning to watch younger brother Russ coach.

It certainly is convenient that colleges and universities on the quarter system, such as Ohio State, will be enjoying between-semester - vacations next weekend. It will be like "Old Home Week" for many Ashville fans as they journey to Troy.

Kansas Awaits Big 'O' & Co.

Cincinnati Routs DePaul by 40 Points

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—Cincinnati's top-rated Bearcats will battle Kansas' gritty Jayhawks tonight in the finals of the NCAA Midwest regional basketball tournament.

The Jayhawk coach rates the Big O and company as better than last year's Cincinnati team.

"This season they have a center to help out Oscar Robertson and there is no comparison between this season and last," said Kansas' Dick Harp.

Tonight's winner will advance to the national NCAA semifinals at San Francisco next Friday night. Last year Cincinnati bowed in the NCAA semifinals to California, 64-58.

nati's 6-9 sophomore Paul Hogue, nati's 6-9 sophomore Paul Hogue, cats routed De Paul of Chicago 99-59 before 10,500 in Kansas State's Ahearn Fieldhouse Friday night. The Big O got 23 points, playing a superb floor game in pacing Cincinnati to its 26th victory against a single loss.

In the other Midwest regional semifinal, Kansas rallied to eliminate Southwestern Conference champion Texas, 90-81, as Jayhawk sophomore Wayne Hightower and Longhorn Jay Arnette each scored 34 points, a career high for both.

DePaul never was in the game against the methodical Bearcats who jumped to a 17-point lead, 26-9, in the first 10 minutes and were in front 53-25 at halftime.

Hook, O'Toole Get Pitching Chances

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Manager Fred Hutchinson yearns to see if Jay Hook and Jim O'Toole really have big league pitching stuff.

That's why Hook starts on the mound in today's first Grapefruit League exhibition game, against Chicago's National League, and O'Toole will follow three innings later.

Cot Deal, Hutch's new pitching coach, thinks Hook is a prime prospect, regardless of his 5-5 record with the Reds last season.

Regional Cage Lineup Nearly Complete Now

9 in Class A Picked; Tonight's Games Due To Finish Selection

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Seven Class A teams were safely in Ohio's high school regional basketball tournaments today, with the other nine of next week's cage cast to be picked tonight.

All 16 Class AA regional berths will be up for grabs in tonight's district finals.

Two former champions, Northwestern of Wayne County (1958) and Glenford (1941), are among the seven smaller schools in the fold. The Wayne County crew has a 25-2 record, Glenford 21-5. The seven qualifiers have an over-all record of 163 wins against only 10 defeats.

Granville, with 24-0, and New Boston with 22-0, will compete at Athens with Glenford. Ashville, which split the Central District crown with Granville, goes to Troy, and Hiland (24-2) moves into the Canton playoffs with Northwestern and Lowellville (23-1).

Salem Local of Urbana, one of last year's state finalists, and Ayersville's 1957 champions, are the only other unbeaten teams still in the Class A scrap. Ayersville (24-0) meets Oakwood (22-3) at Defiance tonight, while the Urbana team (22-0) must get by Rushsylvania (23-1) at Springfield.

Castalia Margaretta's 1932 Class A kings were ousted Friday night at Mansfield by Lykens, 61-51, but the big disaster was in Class AA as Archbold, winner of 19 straight, fell before Toledo Libbey, 51-49.

With the starting Class AA field of 432 whittled to 32, and the 561 Class A teams to 25, there was plenty of talent still around.

Eight of the top 10 in the final Associated Press poll were among the 25 Class A survivors, and six of the Class AA elite were still on deck.

No one had disturbed the top four in either division, but one of Class AA's best must drop tonight. Dayton Roosevelt's top-ranked Teddies and fourth-ranked Xenia Central, each with a 22-0 mark, tangle at Dayton for a spot in the Cincinnati regional—a game which would look fine in the state tourney finals.

In addition to the two Dayton finalists, only third-ranked Canton Timken remains unblemished in Class AA. But scattered among the 32 teams are six clubs which have won the state title 15 times in 37 years.

Cleveland East Tech, the Class AA victor the last two years, goes against Cleveland St. Ignace (19-2) at Bedford tonight for a regional berth. The champs have won 19 straight since dropping the opener.

Other ex-kings are seven-time winner Middletown, Newark (3), and Xenia Central, Dayton Roosevelt and Portsmouth. Springfield's Wildcats, the 1925 and 1950 victors, were ousted Friday night by Urbana, 61-53.

Cleveland East Tech, Middletown and Toledo Scott of last year's state final cast are among the survivors in the big school division, while Northwestern and Salem Local of the 1959 final four in Class A are still alive.

Miss Chris Von Salza of Saratoga, Calif., won five gold medals in swimming events at the Pan-American Games in Chicago last summer.

Utah, West Virginia Fall In NCAA Tournament Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The unheralded Oregon Webfoots from the Pacific Northwest were the surprise of the NCAA championship basketball tourney Friday night.

Beaten nine times during the regular season, Oregon was considered a setup for sixth-ranked Utah (25-2) champions of the Skyline Conference. But almost before the Utes knew what was happening they were 11 points behind. They never caught up and were beaten 65-54 in the Far West regional semifinals at Seattle.

The surprising Oregon boys face California, the defending champions, in the regional final tonight.

Cincinnati, California and Ohio State, rated 1-2-3 in the final Associated Press poll of the season, had little trouble joining Oregon in the national quarterfinals. However, fifth-ranked West Virginia, like Utah, bit the dust. The Southern Conference champs were tripped by New York University 82-81 in overtime. Georgia Tech, Duke and Kansas also reached the round of eight.

This is the setup for tonight's regional finals which will determine the four teams to go to the national semifinals and final at San Francisco next Friday and Saturday.

Eastern at Charlotte, N.C.; NYU vs. Duke.

Midwest at Louisville, Ky: Georgia Tech vs. Ohio State.

Midwest at Manhattan, Kan.: Kansas vs. Cincinnati.

Far West at Seattle: Oregon vs. California.

All-America Jerry West scored 34 points for West Virginia, but it wasn't enough to balk NYU. The Violets' Russ Cunningham popped in a jump shot with four seconds left in regulation time to tie the game 77-77. Then, with only eight seconds left in the extra period, Cunningham flipped in a free throw that sealed the doom of the Mountaineers.

Duke which surprised by winning the Atlantic Coast Conference championship last week, lifted more eyebrows by nipping St. Josephs of Philadelphia 58-56.

Ohio University nearly surprised Georgia Tech, but the SEC boys finished in front 57-54.

Ohio State, the Big Ten champion, were seven points behind Western Kentucky at halftime, then virtually blasted the Hilltoppers off the court at Louisville with a 61-point second half for a 98-79 victory.

Kansas trailed Texas at the half, too, but Wayne Hightower scored 22 points for the Wildcats in the second half and they whipped the Southwest Conference champs 90-81.

It was a cakewalk for Cincinnati and All-America Oscar Robertson as they walloped DePaul 99-59. Robertson bagged 29 points.

It was a breeze for California, too. The defending champs walloped Santa Clara 69-49 and their famous defense was never sharper.

Glenn Moore, 6-7 pivot man, sparked the Oregon upset. He held Utah's ace, 6-9 Billy McGill to 6 points for the entire game. Moore was ably assisted by Chuck Rask who virtually took care of Utah's full court press all by himself. Rask finished with 18 points and Moore 19.

Evansville (Ind) College won the NCAA small college championship for the second straight year with a 90-60 romp over Chapman (Calif) in the tourney final at Evansville. Kentucky Wesleyan beat Cornell of Iowa 86-76 for third place.

The Westminster titans of New Wilmington, Pa. ended the three-year reign of Tennessee A & I State as NAIA champions. They nipped the Southern team 39-38 in the semifinals of the NAIA tourney at Kansas City. Southwest Texas beat William Jewell 82-44 in the other semifinal and will meet Westminster for the title tonight.

Firing resumes today in the National Invitation Tourney with afternoon - night doubleheaders in New York.

The first matinee game pits St. Bonaventure against Holy Cross. In the second, to be national televised, Utah State battles Villanova. The night twin bill finds Dayton against Temple and St. Louis against Providence.

Georgia Tech To Test Bucks

Ohio U Is Edged In NCAA Tourney

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Big Ten champion Ohio State meets Southeastern Conference representative Georgia Tech tonight for the NCAA Midwest regional basketball championship.

Western Kentucky and Ohio University will play a consolation game at 7 p.m. (CST) preceding the 9 p.m. final.

The Buckeyes broke loose late in the second half Friday night and whipped Western Kentucky 98-79. All-America Jerry Lucas equalled his own scoring record with 36 points.

The sellout crowd of 16,524 at Freedom Hall saw the Ohio Valley Conference champions take a 43-37 halftime lead and then run out of steam. Charlie Osborne topped the losers with 18 points.

Hilltopper Coach Ed Diddle said Ohio State's reserve strength won the game. The Buckeyes, making their sixth appearance in NCAA tournaments, have never won a championship.

Georgia Tech's 57-54 triumph over Ohio University paralleled the Western-Ohio State contest.

Underdog Ohio U. led shaky 33-23 at intermission, but couldn't cope with the accuracy of Roger Kaiser, who scored 25 points, and the rebounding of Dave Denton.

Howard Jolliff, Ohio U.'s leading point producer, made 20 points and grabbed 26 rebounds.

The Yellow Jackets chipped away steadily at the Bobcats' early margin. They crept to within 49-50 and then Denton performed what Tech Coach Whack Hyder called the key achievement of the game.

He sank a short one-hander and added a free throw that put Tech ahead 52-50 to stay.

Mantle Says He'll Bat .350 in '60

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Mickey Mantle doesn't expect to be any more popular with New York fans even if he fulfills his ambition this year of hitting .350 and leading the American League in runs batted in.

The Yankee slugger made this surprising statement Friday after taking a $7,000 pay cut in signing for $65,000. The 28-year-old center field star flew into town from his Dallas home Thursday night and came to terms with General Manager George Weiss Friday morning after a two-minute conference.

The popularity angle was injected by Weiss, who expressed the hope that Mantle has a big year in 1960 so that Mickey could, in addition to helping the team win the pennant, regain his popularity with the Yankee Stadium fans.

Mantle didn't seem too concerned.

"I didn't know I was ever popular," he said. "I had a couple of pretty good years and it didn't help me much."

Mickey didn't appear overjoyed at his signing. He returned the first contract last February calling for $55,000 and ignored a second offer calling for $60,000.

Manager Casey Stengel, obviously relieved to see Mantle in uniform, said: "There are times when Mantle has a good day that you don't need any other players. When he's hot, the Yankees are not a cold club."

Ohio Fairs Fund Hits $646,963

Counties Given Shares Of Horse Bet Pools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio fairs fund will give $646,963 to the state, county and independent fairs this year—that is $27,246 more than last year.

The fund comes from one-half of one per cent deductions from pari-mutuel betting pools at Ohio thoroughbred and harness racing tracks.

The Ohio State Fair gets $60,000 and the balance of the fund is shared by 82 county and eight independent fairs.

Each fair receives a minimum of $2,500. Fairs with racing programs get an additional $3,000, and those with colt stakes and early closers another $3,132.52.

Fairs receiving the maximum include: Allen at Lima, Clinton at Wilmington, Columbiana at Lisbon, Cuyahoga at Berea, Fairfield at Lancaster, Fayette at Washington Court House.

Knox at Mount Vernon, Lake at Painesville, Lorain at Wellington, Marion at Marion, Pickaway at Circleville, Stark at Canton Van Wert at Van Wert, Washington at Marietta.

The 27 fairs receiving $5,500 each include:

Athens at Athens, Butler at Hamilton, Hocking at Logan, Lawrence at Ironton, Mahoning at Canfield, Meigs at Pomeroy, Morrow at Mount Gilead, Ross at Chillicothe, Trumbull at Warren.

The 20 fairs receiving the minimum of $2,500 each include: Ashland at Ashland, Highland at Hillsboro, Perry at New Lexington, Richland at Mansfield, Sandusky at Fremont, Scioto at Lucasville, Tuscarawas at Dover, Barlow independent at Barlow, Bellville independent at Bellville, Loudonville independent at Loudonville, and Randolph independent at Randolph.

State Ruling Asked on GI Voting Rights

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Prosecutor Mathias H. Heck of Montgomery County has asked Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy for a ruling on the rights of military personnel to vote in Ohio.

The request stemmed from election board refusal to allow voting by service personnel who have lived outside their military establishments long enough to meet Ohio residency requirements.

A number of servicemen in Montgomery and adjoining Green counties complained that they were suddenly denied the right to vote in Ohio elections this year.

Many of them have bought homes outside their bases and lived in them for several years. They claimed they were being disenfranchised merely because they were in uniform.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said the Ohio Constitution bans voting by military personnel garrisoned in Ohio, and that federal officials state that members of the armed services should vote in their home states.

But attorneys differ on their interpretations. Some insist that the ban does not apply to those living outside military establishments if they meet the residence requirements.

Brown has suggested that a court test might clarify the situation and action by the next Legislature would be helpful.

Nips from 'Broken' Bottles Trap Clerk

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A former warehouse clerk on trial for drunken driving says nips from broken liquor bottles made him tipsy.

John E. Gallagher, 43, of suburban Penn Hills told the judge Thursday he was arrested Aug. 17 shortly after drinking the remains of a broken shipment at a Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board warehouse.

To keep the glass out, said Gallagher, he strained the liquor through a handkerchief into the cup. He was fined $150.

Ohio Fairs Fund Hits $646,963

Counties Given Shares Of Horse Bet Pools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio fairs fund will give $646,963 to the state, county and independent fairs this year—that is $27,246 more than last year.

The fund comes from one-half of one per cent deductions from pari-mutuel betting pools at Ohio thoroughbred and harness racing tracks.

The Ohio State Fair gets $60,000 and the balance of the fund is shared by 82 county and eight independent fairs.

Each fair receives a minimum of $2,500. Fairs with racing programs get an additional $3,000, and those with colt stakes and early closers another $3,132.52.

Fairs receiving the maximum include: Allen at Lima, Clinton at Wilmington, Columbiana at Lisbon, Cuyahoga at Berea, Fairfield at Lancaster, Fayette at Washington Court House.

Knox at Mount Vernon, Lake at Painesville, Lorain at Wellington, Marion at Marion, Pickaway at Circleville, Stark at Canton Van Wert at Van Wert, Washington at Marietta.

The 27 fairs receiving $5,500 each include: Athens at Athens, Butler at Hamilton, Hocking at Logan, Lawrence at Ironton, Mahoning at Canfield, Meigs at Pomeroy, Morrow at Mount Gilead, Ross at Chillicothe, Trumbull at Warren.

The 20 fairs receiving the minimum of $2,500 each include: Ashland at Ashland, Highland at Hillsboro, Perry at New Lexington, Richland at Mansfield, Sandusky at Fremont, Scioto at Lucasville, Tuscarawas at Dover, Barlow independent at Barlow, Bellville independent at Bellville, Loudonville independent at Loudonville, and Randolph independent at Randolph.

State Ruling Asked on GI Voting Rights

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Prosecutor Mathias H. Heck of Montgomery County has asked Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy for a ruling on the rights of military personnel to vote in Ohio.

The request stemmed from election board refusal to allow voting by service personnel who have lived outside their military establishments long enough to meet Ohio residency requirements.

A number of servicemen in Montgomery and adjoining Green counties complained that they were suddenly denied the right to vote in Ohio elections this year.

Many of them have bought homes outside their bases and lived in them for several years. They claimed they were being de-franchised merely because they were in uniform.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said the Ohio Constitution bans voting by military personnel garrisoned in Ohio, and that federal officials state that members of the armed services should vote in their home states.

But attorneys differ on their interpretations. Some insist that the ban does not apply to those living outside military establishments if they meet the residence requirements.

Brown has suggested that a court test might clarify the situation and action by the next Legislature would be helpful.

Nips from 'Broken' Bottles Trap Clerk

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A former warehouse clerk on trial for drunken driving says nips from broken liquor bottles made him tipsy.

John E. Gallagher, 43, of suburban Penn Hills told the judge Thursday he was arrested Aug. 17 shortly after drinking the remains of a broken shipment at a Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board warehouse.

To keep the glass out, said Gallagher, he strained the liquor through a handkerchief into the cup. He was fined $150.
